FROM:

RLF:

Dept's Instruction No. 54 of Narch 20, 1951

SUBJECT:

TURKEY'S POSITION IN THE EAST-WIST STRUGGLE

I have the honor to refer to the Department's Instruction No. 54 of March 20, 1951, with which there was included a copy of the National Intelligence Estimate No. 9 entitled "Turkey's Position in the East-Nest Struggle", issued by the Central Intelligence Agency, and to submit the following suggested amendment to Paragraph 7 of Page 2 of the estimate which represents the joint recommendation of my Service Attaches and the Planning Group of JAMMAT, and bears my approval as CHAMMAT:

"In the event of general war, Turkey, if not itself attached, probably would initially maintain its status of non-belligerency but would do everything compatible with that status to facilitate a Western victory. Turkey probably would undertake to fulfill any U.S. backed security commitment, entering into a general war even though not directly attacked. This participation would initially, of necessity, be limited to defense of Turkish territory and the provision of bases for Allied use."

good that but not in
